Girl reading Brad Troemel essays on the CTrain - m4w

You were sitting on one of the longer middle benches on the south-bound CTrain reading a paperback book of Brad Troemel's essays. You have blonde hair and wore a skirt with black stockings. I'd like to talk "art" with you sometime - Reply with the name of the book and let's meet for coffee.

Hi Carlin,

Hope you are well. I was wondering if you might be able to send over some answers to a few interview questions for a written interview on our blog.

Ideally I will need your responses by the end of the week. Do you think that might be possible?

All the best

Hello all,

carlin-

What are you doing in the studio today?

the snapchat dialogue will happen, and i look forward to it. i have been connecting with many new artists via the internet & it is p fun to transcend proximity and talk w/ people / curate this show are you well?

i got some rest

and now i am drinking wine from a bottle with a smiley face on it.

I am going to start actually communicating / networking with other artists to learn about their practices, right now it's like me messaging them and them taking a long time to get back to me ha ha . . so we will c i have found a lot of amazing artists via instagram though, many by people tagging me in. i was about to tag you on some artists post today but i didn't and now i forget who it was, but i will tag you in things i think you should see. i like the idea of using screen caps from snap chat and including pieces of abstracted and re contextualized conversation through social media. we can start some sort of SC dialogue whenever you add me, and perhaps if it's relevant i could b in your book but you should definitely curate the strongest from lots of potentials.

Hi Carlin,

How are things? Looking forward to having a Skype chat with you on Monday. I was just wondering whether or not you had any imagery you could send with regards to the actual contents of our book. Reference material / visual examples / previous work etc that might give us an idea of what the content might look like. Would that be ok?

Kind regards
